

Dreaded An Operation More Than Anything

Tried Fruitola and Traxo and Has Never Since Been Troubled With Gall-stones.

Mrs. Mary E. Franse, whose address is West Point, Neb., Box 411, has written to the Pinus laboratories a very strong endorsement of Fruitola and Traxo. In her letter, Mrs. Franse says: "About ten years ago I was about to undergo an operation for gall-stones when I heard of your medicine. Dreading an operation above everything I determined to try Fruitola and Traxo and have never been sorry I did so, as I have never been troubled with gall-stones since."

MRS. MARY E. FRANSE

Fruitola is a powerful lubricant for the intestinal organs, and one dose is usually sufficient to give ample evidence of its efficacy. It softens the congested masses, disintegrates the hardened particles that occasion so much suffering, and expels the accumulated waste to the intense relief of the patient. Following a dose of Fruitola, Traxo should be taken three or four times a day in order to rebuild and restore the system that has been weakened and run down by constant suffering. It is a splendid tonic, acting on the liver and stomach most beneficially.

In the files of the Pinus laboratories at Monticello, Ill., are many letters gratefully acknowledging the satisfactory results following the use of Fruitola and Traxo. Arrangements have been made for the distribution of these excellent remedies by leading drug stores everywhere. In Anderson Fruitola and Traxo can be obtained at Evans' Pharmacy, three stores.

FIGHT AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS

400,000 Red Cross Christmas Seals Go on Sale in December.

The Red Cross Seal Commission of South Carolina has reopened its office in the Union National Bank Building at Columbia and is planning to conduct again the energetic state-wide sale of the seals which are to be used during the month of December on the backs of letters, packages, menus, theater programs and any place they will stick.

The commission has sent in an order to the National Red Cross society for a shipment of four hundred thousand Red Cross Christmas seals and advertising material in proportion. In 1913 there were sold in South Carolina approximately 250,000 of these little messengers of health. In 1914, owing to the depressed financial condition of the state, the sale approximated only about 150,000. This year with the financial outlook more encouraging, the commission hopes to be able to dispose of the entire lot of 400,000, and an enthusiastic campaign for securing agents in the towns throughout the state to place the seal is now begun. The Red Cross seals sell for one cent each, and ninety per cent of the proceeds from the sale during the Christmas season is kept in the state of South Carolina to aid in the fight against Tuberculosis. Therefore every penny that is put into a Red Cross Christmas seal is a bullet in the great battle against consumption in our state.

Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"Last winter I used a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a bad bronchial cough. I felt its beneficial effect immediately and before I had finished the bottle I was cured. I never tire of recommending this remedy to my friends," writes Mrs. William Bright, Ft. Wayne, Ind. For sale by all dealers.

Two Children Had Croup.

The two children of J. W. Nix, merchant, Cleveland, Ga., had croup last winter. One was a boy of 6, the other a girl of 8 years. Mr. Nix writes: "Both got so choked up they could hardly breathe and couldn't talk. I gave them Foley's Honey and Tar and nothing else and it entirely cured them." This reliable medicine should be in every home for it gives immediate relief from colds, coughs and croup, breaks raw inflamed throat and loosens phlegm. Sold everywhere.

an inspiration to others to live and serve.
God in His wisdom created this man to serve Him first and because of that service to serve his fellowman. He would not permit such a man to leave the work so ably performed did not He know the influence of that energetic and whole-souled life was to abide with His children forever, and continue through others the up-building of that which is good and true.
The college which he loved and served will miss him greatly. The church of his choice will miss him as few, if any, of its members would be missed and the community at large will miss his ever ready disposition to serve its interests. All of those agencies will feel the loss most acutely but the feeling of loneliness that must come to his family and to those less happily provided with this world's goods will be intense and the suffering and longing for a sight of the much loved face will be before them always.
Charlie Sullivan was a man in every sense of the word. He was a truly Christian man was generous in his dealings with all agencies for good, was charitable to a fault toward those who deserved charity and was ever ready to denounce in an open way every agency that was tending towards evil.
May his good work continue always and may his life be an incentive to all mankind to do as he did and serve God and all mankind with energy and love so that when death shall come upon us we may be ready to enter into closer communion with God as Charlie Sullivan has done and at the same time leave behind us an influence and example that will be an inspiration to all who are left behind to so serve God and our fellow beings, that we may, when our appointed time may arrive, be as ready to enter into the new life as was the case with our friend who has gone from us, yet, continues with us in all but the flesh.

ANDERSON CITIZENS PAY GLOWING TRIBUTE TO LATE CHAS. S. SULLIVAN AND HIS GOOD WORKS

MUST NOT STOP But Work Started By Him Must Be Kept Up—Letter From Friend is Published.

Anderson, S. C., Oct. 15, 1915.
Mr. Editor:
Since the news first reached my ears that Charlie Sullivan had passed away from the activities of this life, the question has come to me over and over again—what are we going to do about it? Who will take his place in the church—who will take his place in the civic and social uplift of Anderson? Who will take his place in a hundred different places where there is now a vacancy.

The conclusion I have reached is this—There is no one individual in this entire city who can do the work that this man has been doing. And yet it must go on. God did not intend that it should stop by removing him, and He will hold those of us who still live accountable for its prosecution. While the memory of his good works and noble life are still fresh in our memories, let us divide up his work and make his tasks our tasks and see to it that no part of his work is left undone.

This morning while thoughts such as these were being revolved in my mind, I received a letter from a friend, one of Anderson's most prominent business men whose soul had been touched and so filled by the wondrous achievements of our departed friends that he felt that he could not begin the days work until he had unbosomed his thoughts to some one. The thoughts are so inspiring and beautifully expressed that I am going to ask that you print this letter believing that it will refresh the soul of every individual who reads it.
Yours very truly,
B. A. Henry.

My Dear Doctor:
The remains of Charlie Sullivan were laid in the family plot yesterday afternoon and the vast concourse of his friends and fellow members of the community wended their several way home with saddened hearts and wondering minds.
It was a wonderful sight to see the throngs of men, women and children who filled to overflowing the roomy Baptist church, everyone intent on paying homage to the man who had lived his life among them and whose remains were so soon to pass from their sight forever.
But has Charlie Sullivan passed from us? His body has been laid to rest, but who would say the life of a man who was so energetic, so true and of such importance to the community he loved had passed forever from us? Charlie Sullivan loved and served his family with a devotion that was beautiful to behold. He loved his church with a power and energy that can only be prompted by an intense love for his God and a consuming desire to build up and make wonderfully strong that agency which God has chosen as His mouthpiece. He served his community in a material way in only a strong, powerful man whose interests are large and whose disposition is for good can serve and it is impossible to believe the great and good work of Charlie Sullivan will close or be held in abeyance because of his departure from the scene of his activities. It is more reasonable to believe that his great work will be continued and that the good that he has lived and served will be

When Baby Has the Croup.
When a mother is awakened from sound sleep to find her child who has gone to bed apparently in the best of health struggling for breath, she is naturally alarmed. Yet if she can keep her presence of mind and give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy every ed, quick relief will follow and the child will drop to sleep to awaken in the morning as well as ever. This remedy has been in use for many years with uniform success. For sale by all dealers.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR
It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Thickness.
Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful sheen, that soft hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.
Nowadays we get this famous mixture by using at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wynth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wynth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT ENROLLMENT

OF PUPILS IN THE CITY SCHOOLS OF ANDERSON

EXPECT 4,000

Before the End of the Year Stated Supt. McCants Yesterday Afternoon.

The reports of the various teachers in the city schools made on the end of the first month, October 5, show some interesting facts about the enrollment of pupils. The total enrollment for both the white and negro schools is 3,014, there being an enrollment of 2,183 white pupils and 831 colored. These figures do not include the night schools, which have not been reported.

This enrollment is an increase of 320 over last year for both the white and colored. The increase is very noticeable in the number of white pupils attending the schools this year as compared with the same dates last year and the year before. For the same date in 1914 there was an enrollment in the white schools of 1,981, or 202 fewer than there are this year. In 1913 at the same date there was an enrollment of 1,681, or 502 fewer white pupils attending today. "I expect the enrollment to reach 4,000 this year," stated Supt. McCants yesterday afternoon. "There will be a great many more pupils after Christmas, especially. As to the negro schools, I expect a tremendous increase within the next month. Many of them are still in the cotton fields and for that reason they are not attending school at present." The enrollment by schools is as follows:

White Schools.
